

2021 Thanksgiving Day Message 2021

President Donald J. Trump

Heavenly Father,

You have painted the mountains of our planet so beautifully. One cannot stand in front of the canvas that You have created and not be moved by the pure beauty; the perfection.

I pray that as I look at my reflection in the mirror, You would give me eyes to see myself the way You see me. When I'm tempted to obsess over everything that is wrong with my body, the extra weight, the wrinkled skin, and all the ways I don't look like society's vision of perfection; please remind me that I'm perfect in Your eyes.

As I turn away from the mirror, have me take my eyes off myself and direct them towards You so I can be reassured of Your unconditional love.

Today's world is a mess and it's easy to be led astray. Grant me the strength to stand atop the mountain and have the courage to be myself; proud to be Your child. Imperfections and all. Remind me that my mess is my message and You'll always be there, guiding and loving.
