

THE FAMILY LAW

universal reflection

as fatherhood

as sonship of ideas

as motherhood

Foundation:

Principle

Mind

Soul

Spirit each idea reflects every other idea

What is the nature of this reflection?

LIFE: fatherhood of ideas

provides, sustains, maintains, gives, projects, feeds, floods

- a. Each idea (i) fathers itself with the qualities of M, Sp, So, P, Li, T, Lo.
- b. Each idea (i) fathers every other idea
- c. Every other idea fathers itself
- d. Every other idea fathers every other idea, including what appears as me.

TRUTH: sonship of ideas

affirms, claims, confirms, takes possession, possesses true recognition of idea

- a. Each idea (i) sonships itself with the qualities of M, Sp, So, P, Li, T, Lo.
- b. Each idea (i) sonships every other idea
- c. Every other idea sonships itself
- d. Every other idea sonships every other idea, including what appears as me

LOVE: motherhood of ideas embraces, accepts, protects, preserves, cherishes, sees the promise in all, anticipates the completion of all

- a. Each idea (i) mothers itself with the qualities of M, Sp, So, P, Li, T, Lo
- b. Each idea (i) mothers every other idea
- c. Every other idea mothers itself
- d. Every other idea mothers every other idea, including that which appears as me.

Therefore:

- a. no idea (i) can rob, withhold, take away, keep from, steal, consume, impoverish itself
- b. no idea (i) can rob, withhold, take away, pull back, keep from, steal, consume, impoverish another.
- c. every other idea cannot truly rob, withhold, take away,, keep from, steal, consume, impoverish itself.
- d. every other idea cannot truly rob, withhold, take away, keep from, steal, consume, impoverish another idea, including that which appears as me.

- a. no idea (i) can truly deny, destroy, fail to recognize or be conscious of, fail to adopt, fail to confirm or affirm Being's new idea for itself.
- b. no idea (i) can truly deny, destroy, fail to recognize or be conscious of, fail to adopt, fail to confirm or affirm Being's new idea for another.
- c. every other idea cannot truly deny, destroy, fail to recognize or be conscious of, fail to adopt, fail to confirm or affirm Being's new idea for itself.
- d. every other idea cannot truly deny, destroy, fail to recognize or be conscious of, fail to adopt, fail to confirm or affirm Being's new idea for every other idea, including that which appears as me.

- a. no idea (i) can truly reject, refuse, fail to accept, nurture, cherish the new idea, plan, purpose Being is bringing to it, cannot war against the idea or fail to take it on.
- b. no idea (i) can truly reject, refuse, fail to accept, nurture, cherish the new idea, plan, purpose Being is bringing to another idea, cannot war against it or condemn another to be without it.
- c. every other idea cannot truly reject, refuse, fail to accept, nurture, cherish the new idea, plan, purpose Being is bringing to it; is not warring against the idea or failing to take it on.
- d. every other idea is not rejecting, refusing, failing to accept, nurture, cherish the new idea, plan, purpose Being is bringing to the universe of being; is not warring against the idea, preventing or making sure another cannot take it on, including that which appears as me.

Only divine ideas can come to me and all, influence me and all, abide with me and all, operate as me and all.
